ALL REPUBLICANS IN COUNTY ARE ELECTED BY GOOD LEADS

Little Interest Displayed Here in the General Election With Small Vote Out

It was a republican landslide in La Crosse county.

With less than one-half of the resistered vote out, a spirited contest for sheriff featured election in La Crosse county Tuesday, with little interest shown in any other contest.

"How is the race for sheriff?"
was the question which nearly every new arrival asked as he reached the crowd which jammed the sidewalk
in front of the Tribune office
throughout the evening, and returns from each precinct were scanned
with great interest as they were added to the totals in the window.

J. P. Lutz, democratic candidate, was defeated by R. J. Lund, republican candidate for sheriff by approximately 300 votes, according to unofficial returns from all precincts.
Checking up of these returns by the election canvassing board may change the totals slightly, but election of Lund is conceded by all who tabulated the returns by over 200 majority.

The country districts and strong
city republican wards carried the day for Lund. Lutz made a splendid run in the city and with a little organization work in his behalf in the country districts, might have been elected.

Lund, candidate for surveyor,
made the best run on the county ticket, obtaining 6500 votes, with Wicks for register of deeds a close second.

Johnette, democratic candidate for congressman, received 1750 votes in his home county, to Beck's 5523.

Mayor A. A. Bentley, democratic candidate for governor, received 1558
votes in his home county, while Governor Blaine was given 6074, with a few precincts still missing.

Henry Noin, La Follette republican candidate for assemblyman in the first district, was elected.

All of the republican candidates for county offices, aside from the sheriff candidates were elected by hardsome majorities.

Trotter, independent candidate for congressman, received 1312 votes, while Fryer, regular republican candidate, was elected by a total of 5235.

THREE HUNDRED AT
STATE CONVENTION
OF BUTTERMAKERS

Convention is Well Attended by Delegates and Others Interested in Work

ADDRESS BY DAIRY AND FOOD
COMMISSIONER ON WEDNESDAY

Chamber of Commerce Hosts at Wednesday Dinner

THE annual convention of the Wisconsin Buttermakers' Association opened Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce with a large attendance,
there being about 300 visitors here.
This number includes the delegates and alternates from the 16 state districts, and a number of commission house men and supply men.

The convention was called to order Tuesday evening at 7:30 by the president, H. B. Holberg, of Westby.
J. J. Felber, president of the Chamber of Commerce of La Crosse, delivered a short address of welcome,
to which C. J. Dodge of Windsor, responded.

President's Address

In his annual presidential address,
Mr. Holberg dwelt on the point of more and better dairy products for Wisconsin. He said, in conclusion:
"Friend creamery operator, creamery manager, member of board of directors or creamery owner, dairy farmer, commission merchant and butter dealer—know that your aim is the same as ours! Strive for better and more profitable dairying through the means of efficiency and justice. If you do this you may feel confident that you will avoid the rocks on which so many similar association ships have been stranded—namely selfishness and greed. We must give as well as take in this world."

One of the most interesting addresses of the evening was the lecture on "Advertising Wisconsin Dairy Products," by A. J. Glover, editor of Hoard's Dairyman. Mr. Glover gave a very strong talk in which he outlined plans for making a continual market for Wisconsin dairy products.
This is to be accomplished, according to the plan, by raising the standard of the products to such a point that they will be always in demand, and the quantity high enough so that a reasonable demand can always be supplied.

Wednesday Program

Wednesday morning the first thing on the program was the inspection of the butter exhibits at the Tri-State Ice Cream company, and the butter judging contests. Later in the morning the meeting at the Chamber of Commerce was addressed by Theodore Lennartz of Sparta and Olin Christensen of Neillsville. The principal address scheduled for the afternoon program was by J. Q. Emery, state dairy and food commissioner. Wednesday evening at six the Chamber of Commerce will entertain at a dinner.

Wisconsin Buttermakers' Association convention now being held in this city.

CITY DISCONTINUES
GARBAGE GATHERING
TODAY FOR WINTER

Beginning Wednesday, the city discontinued the city collection of garbage for the winter, except in the city heated districts, where the collections will be made as in previous years. The action to discontinue making garbage collections was agreed upon at the last meeting of the board of health.

LA FOLLETTE, BLAINE AND ENTIRE STATE TICKET GO INTO OFFICE BY BIG VOTE

Only Question in Doubt Wednesday is Size of Vote Rolled Up; Republican Congressmen Re-elected and Berger Wins in Fifth;

'Schneider Leading Graas; Two
Amendments Win

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Returns from 1392 precincts out of 2533
in Wisconsin for governor given: Blaine, republican, 219,248; Bentley, 30,368; Arnold, socialist, 24,056.

In 1434 precincts for U. S. senator the vote is: La Follette, republican, 219,156; Hooper, independent democrat, 47,533.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Additional returns from Tuesday's Wisconsin election only served to increase the top-sided majority given Senator Robert M. La Follette, his running mate, Governor John J. Blaine, elective state officers and a representative portion of the entire ticket, which went before the people aligned with the cause advocated by the state's apparently acknowledged leaders.

The only question to be determined, with the exception of a few questionable state senatorial districts, is conceded to be one of pledge to the La Follette-Blaine organization, while the complexion of the state senate is being claimed as favorable to both sides. Available returns are too meager to reflect the sentiment in those districts which are considered the solution of the situation.

Figures compiled early Wednesday from 1,099 of the state's 2,533
precincts, which includes returns from all except three counties, give Blaine, 156,368; Bentley, 21,455; Arnold, 23,697. A total of 1,196 precincts for United States senator give La Follette, 162,519; Hooper, 25,510. The of ninety-seven more precincts reporting for La Follette, give him a lead 6,151 in majority over that of Governor Blaine. For a period of hours Tuesday night, Governor Blaine led the senator by nearly 4,000 votes. The La Follette lead was restored with the Milwaukee county report.

The election of Victor L. Berger for the third time as representative from the Fifth district was assured shortly after midnight, when he substantially increased a narrow lead to a majority of more than 4,000. One hundred and forty-eight out of 153
precincts in the district gave Berger 28,593; Stafford, 25,265. Representative Stafford's secretary earlier in the evening conceded the election to Mr. Berger.

SUPERIOR COURT
UPHOLDS VERDICT
IN SAILSTAD CASE

Denies Plea of Life Insurance Company to Have Verdict
Set Aside

SUPERIOR, Wis.—An order declining the motion of the New York Life Insurance company defendant in a suit to compel the payment of a $10,000 insurance policy on the life of Edward J. Sailstad, a former Pau Claire manufacturer, to set aside the verdict of the jury in the recent trial awarding Mrs. Leona Sailstad Richardson the principal of the policy, was filed by Judge C. Z. Luse in federal court at noon Tuesday.

In all probability the case will now be appealed to the federal circuit court of appeals of the seventh circuit at Chicago. Clarence J. Harley, of counsel for the insurance company, stated this afternoon.

The defendant company will be required to deposit a bond of twice the amount of the verdict during the period of appeal.

Attorneys John A. and Peter B.
Cudigan were counsel for Mrs. Sail-stad-Richardson during the trial and in subsequent hearings on the motion of the insurance company.

The case is the first of a number to be instituted by the plaintiff for collection of a total of approximately $80,000 of insurance carried by Edward J. Sailstad.

Judge Luse leaves tonight for Madison, where he will open a special term of court in that city beginning tomorrow. The grand jury has been in session since October 30 on which they were charged by Judge Luse.

MEDILL M'CORMICK
TO PROBE ECONOMIC STATUS OF EUROPE

NEW YORK.—Senator Medill Mc-Cormick, chairman of the republican senatorial committee, sailed with Mrs. McCormick for France Tuesday.
He said he voted by mail before leaving Chicago and had arranged to be kept informed by wireless of the progress of the elections throughout the country.

He said he would investigate economic conditions in Europe and how the U. S. might help in its economic rehabilitation.

"If the countries of Europe are sincere in their determination to bring about an economic recovery," he said,
"they will find many in this country who stand ready to help, although we are opposed to any political alliances with European powers."

TWO CARS COLLIDE
WITH HORSE-DRAWN
VEHICLES TUESDAY

Accidents Occur on Causeway
and Mormon Coulee Road
Here Tuesday Afternoon

WILLIAM BUCKNER SEVERELY
INJURED IN CAUSEWAY SMASH

Other Results from Intoxicated
Auto Driver

TWO automobile accidents involving collisions with horse-drawn vehicles on Mormon Coulee road and on the causeway occurred in the city
Tuesday afternoon.

As a result of the wreck on the causeway shortly after 5 o'clock, William Buckner, 205 Mill street, is at the La Crosse hospital suffering from four fractured ribs on his left side, and a broken and dislocated left arm. Buckner's right arm was severely bruised.

Driver Is Fined

Out of the Mormon Coulee road accident came the arrest of Roy Get-tman, 1501 George street, who paid
a fine of $52.50 in municipal court Wednesday morning on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Gettman collided head-on with Andrew Brown, driving a St. Michael orphanage wagon in front of 2826 Mormon Coulee road about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. Brown sustained a bruised hip, while Gettman escaped without injury.

Officer Beznous, of the police department, investigating the causeway accident, reported that Buckner was run down by an automobile driven by Earl Wiskersen, 1223
George street at a place about 50 feet north of the Burlington tracks.
A truck owned by the Rubber Mills in turn struck the Wiskersen auto after it had hit Buckner's horse-drawn vehicle. The name of the driver of the Rubber Mills truck was not learned.

Thrown From Wagon

From Buckner, through his physician at the hospital, it was learned that he was thrown from the wagon
beneath the horses' feet by the impact when struck by Wiskersen's car.
The vehicle was pushed up onto the horses and Buckner was kicked by one when he fell to the pavement.
He said, he was evidently trampled
on and sustained four fractured ribs, breaking his arm when he was thrown from the wagon. His right arm is swollen considerably, however, an X-ray failed to reveal any broken bones. Buckner's left arm was broken below the elbow and dislocated at the joint.

After the accident on Mormon Coulee road, Andrew Brown, driving the team of horses that was struck by Gettman was taken to the St.
Francis hospital by Father Hoffman.

When an examination revealed that Brown was not seriously injured, Pa-ther Hoffman accompanied him to Central police station where Brown told his story to the police.

Brown said he was driving south
on the road about in front of the residence at 2826 M. C. R. He saw an auto approaching, zig-zagging, and he avoid possibility of a collision, he swung walking to the right. One of his horses walking in the sand off the pavement. When Gettman collided with Brown, one of the horses was thrown up on the radiator of the machine. The animal was severely cut up but no bones were broken, it was said.

Walton Losey happened by shortly after the accident and assisted in removing the horse from the car. He told the police that an automobile had passed him on the road just before, and that the driver was swinging from side to side on the road.

A strange incident in connection with the accident was that Gettman called Central police station and reported that his car had been stolen from Chicken Tavern, Mormon Coulee, wayside Inn. In the telephone conversation, according to the police report, Gettman told the officer that the person who stole his machine had run into a team of horses, killing one of the horses, and that his car was smashed. Asked how he had gotten into town Gettman told the police that he walked in from the Tavern, but had not seen any signs of an accident along the road.

Tikal Makes Arrest

In the meantime Officer Tikal arrested Gettman and brought him to headquarters. He held to his original story for a time but when being searched by one of the officers, he admitted that he was the driver of the car that was involved in the accident. He was identified by Brown and also by Losey.

Gettman's automobile was badly wrecked in the crash. The team of horses was taken to the orphanage stable.

GAINS SHOWN BY DEMOCRATS
IN ELECTION THREATEN TO
WIPE OUT BIG HARDING LEAD

Figures of National Prominence in Republican Party and Friends of the President Go Down to Defeat; Oklahoma Congresswoman Beaten, but Illinois Names a Woman Representative

NEW YORK.—By the Associated Press.—Swept before a rising tide of democratic victories in many states, the tremendous republican majorities piled up in the Harding landslide of two years ago were knocked right and left in Tuesday elections.
The republican majorities in the United States senate and in the house of representatives were sharply reduced, but republican managers declared they would not be wiped out.

At noon Wednesday, eastern time, twenty-five states had completed their congressional returns but neither republicans nor democrats had progressed much further toward control of the house of representatives.

The vote at that hour stood:
Republicans, 185; democrats, 187; socialists, 1.
A majority to control is 218.
Iowa was the only state which has returned a solid republican delegation.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, republican administration leader in the senate, squeezed through in Massachusetts, with a plurality of 1,945 votes in nearly a million votes cast, and friends of Col. Gaston, his democratic opponent, were asking for a recount.

In Indiana, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Michigan and West Virginia democratic senators replacing republicans had either been conceded or were indicated on the face of the returns. The republicans had an assured senatorial victory to their credit, however, in Nebraska, where R. B. Howell displaced Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, a democratic leader, and prospects of another in Ohio,
although today's returns showed Senator Pennington, democrat, cutting down the lead of his republican opponent, Representative Fess.

Not a single republican gain in the house of representatives had appeared today to count against the inroads
the democrats made in every state.
Various causes ranging from prohibition to tariff were being brought forward as responsible for results.

Kellogg Losing
In Senate Race
Volstead Out

ST. PAUL, Minn.—When returns on the United States senatorial list had been received from 1,014 of the state's 3,479 precincts at noon Wednesday, the count stood: Kellogg, 93,929;
Shipstead, 120,298; Olsen, 47-531.

For governor: 93 precincts
give Press, 113,215; Johnson, 95,157; Indreus, 37,093.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—By The Associated Press.—Defeat of Congressman
A. J. Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement act, was indicated in returns available up to 10:30 Wednesday from the election. Rev. O. J.
Kvale, independent, was leading him by 1,000 votes when more than half the precincts in the Seventh district had been heard from.

Senator Frank R. Kellogg, republican, still was trailing Dr. Henrik Shipstead, farmer-laborer, when 643 of the state's 30,179 precincts had reported, the count then standing: Kellogg, 60,977; Shipstead, 70,640; Mrs.
Anna D. Olsen, 22,409.

With 105 of the Seventh district's 379 precincts reported, Volstead had 55,122 votes to Kvale's 16,097.

Michigan Elects
Democratic Senator

DETROIT, Mich.—Michigan voters
Tuesday re-elected the entire republican state ticket but apparently deflected from tradition in the senatorial election. The selection of a democrat for one of the senate seats occupied for years by a republican was practically assured.

With but 641 precincts of the 2,906
in the state missing Wednesday morning, former Governor W. N. Ferris, democrat, apparently had been elected to the United States senate over Senator Charles E. Townsend, republican. Ferris steadily was increasing his lead as additional returns were received from Wayne county (Detroit).

The vote stood: Ferris, 235,535;
Townsend, 220,450.

Groesbeck Re-elected

Governor Groesbeck had a safe lead of nearly 100,000 over his democratic opponent, Alvah Cammus, and all other state offices were well out in front.

Two congressional candidates endorsed by Michigan beer and wine advocates, appeared early in the day to have been elected. They were Clarence McLeod, republican, of the Thirteenth district, and Robert Chauvey, democrat, of the First district.
Both had comfortable leads over their opponents with about half the district precincts heard from.

Grant M. Hudson, a prominent prohibition worker and former head of the Michigan Anti-saloon league, was elected to congress from the Sixth Michigan district. Hudson is a republican and defeated Charles Adair, democrat.

Campaign Was Bitter

The last time a democratic senator was elected from Michigan was in 1852.

The election closed one of the most bitterly fought campaigns in Michigan's history, interest centering chiefly in the race for the senatorship.
Ferris assailed Senator Townsend
during the campaign because he sup-

FURTHER REDUCTION IN TAXES PREDICTED BY SENATOR LENROOT

Bases Assertion on Evidences of Prosperity in Eastern Commercial Centers

BETTY DUBOIS FARRINGTON.
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Further reduction in taxes within the next two years was predicted by Senator Irvine L. Lenroot when returning through here from a speaking tour in New-England. The senator based his statement upon observations in the commercial centers of the east where he said there was evidence on every hand of approaching prosperity.

"I believe it will be possible when prosperity is restored, as it certainly will be, and further economy is practiced in governmental expenditures,
to reduce present taxes," said Mr.
Lenroot. "Then the present laws should yield more than enough revenue despite the present deficit of $650,000,000."

So sure was Representative John
M. Nelson of Madison of his own election on Tuesday, that he returned to Washington the previous Tuesday and reopened his office preparatory to the special session. He brought with him his youngest son, Robert Nelson.
He joins Representative James A.
Frear of Hudson, who has been here for the last few weeks writing letters to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon about the stock dividends issued by Standard Oil.

The reports of members of the Wisconsin delegation in the house on the expenses of their primary and general election campaigns, most of which have been filed with the clerk of the house by now, in keeping with corrupt practices act, show comparatively small expenditures.

In the first district, Representative Henry Allen Cooper of Racine spent $856.88 including the disbursement of $260 to Mrs. Henry Allen Cooper. He received no contributions.

Representative Edward Volz of Sheboygan, in the second district,
gave his only expense as a contribution of $100 to the republican state committee, while his opponent, William P. Schanen, democrat, spent $256.55. Representative John M.
Nelson of Madison reported no expenditures in the third district, and in the fourth Joseph P. Drezdzan, democrat, spent $98.25, and Edmund T.
Melms, socialist, $846.50.

In the fifth district in Milwaukee,
Representative William H. Stafford reported expenditures of $1,056.58,
and no contributions, while his opponent, Victor L. Berger, spent $1,222.92, all of which was contributed by the socialist party of Wisconsin.

In the sixth district W. E. Carnaugh, the democratic candidate, reported spending only $8 for a chauffeur although he received contributions amounting to $50. Representative Florian Lampert of Oshkosh on the other hand, spent $373.50.

Representative Joseph D. Beck of Viroqua, who submitted a most elaborate account of expenditures in his campaign two years ago, said this time he spent only $15 for hall rent and gave $100 to the republican state committee. His democratic opponent, Bert A. Jollivet, claimed to have spent nothing.

There were no reports from the eighth district and in the ninth George T. Schneider reported expenditures of $225 and no contributions.
Other candidates did not report.

Representative James A. Frear of Hudson spent in the tenth district $295 including a contribution of $100
to the republican state committee.
Olin Swenson, his opponent, reported no expenditures. There were no reports from the eleventh district.

Representative A. P. Nelson of Grantshurg, who was defeated in the eleventh district, is expected to return to Washington soon after the election preparatory to the special session. He may come by automobile.

Robert Shields of Superior was a caller at the office of Senator Lenroot prior to leaving for his home in Wisconsin. He has been interested in developing certain phases of the shipping industry at Mobile, Ala., and negotiations with the United States shipping board have brought him here off and on.

Among persons registered this week at the New Willard hotel
were R. G. Krueger of Beloit,
Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hixon of La Crosse, and Mr. and Mrs. James T.
Whelan of Appleton.

Wisconsin will be among seventeen states in which rural mail carriers will take a census of brood sow and pig production this fall, according to an announcement by the postoffice department. A similar census was taken in the spring.

C. M. Campbell of Madison and August J. Schmidt are among the mail carriers named by the postoffice department here as the first to persuade all of their residential patrons upon their routes to install door slots and receptacles. The list includes about 100 names of carriers in all parts of the country, and the following additional carriers in Wisconsin: Robert Clark of Appleton, Henry Muligan of Columbia, and W.
H. Law of Superior.

MAINE'S BEST BILL OPENS AT MAJESTIC THURSDAY MATINEE

Billy Maine's Musical Comedy
company will present for the last half of the week at the Majestic beginning Thursday one of their banner programs. An overseas revue, "Somewhere in France," is the bill in which Mr. Maine has been featured on a tour of the United States.

"Somewhere in France" is built around Billy Maine. In character he is "Private Goldbrick" and makes the most of the part. He is well supported by Harry Welch, Rudy Winter and Frank Butler. These four comprise the quartette and they have a wonderful new line of comic songs to put over.

Fern Le Roy as the Salvation Army
lass; LeVeda Story as the Red Cross nurse; Bryon Wolfe as the M. P. and other luminaries in the Maine constellation of stars make the most of their parts, which seem to have been written for them.

Marie Maine plays the role of the French Madame who runs the cafe where the soldiers drink and dine, and goes the author of the piece several better in jerking laughs from out front. The piece moves swiftly, yet smoothly, and there is precious little waiting between laughs.

"Somewhere in France" will play at the Majestic Thursday, Friday and Saturday with daily matinees.

Instant Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Coffee 10 Minutes

Oats 3 to 5 minutes now

Now there's an Instant Quaker Oats—the quickest-cooking oats in the world. It cooks in 3 to 5 minutes, and cooks to perfection.
Your grocer has both Instant and regular. So you can, if you wish, have the oat dish ready before the eggs or coffee.

Quickness, plus super-flavor

Quaker Oats won their world-wide fame through flavor. They dominate all the earth over, because people love that flavor.
They are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavorful oats. We get but ten pounds of these luscious flakes from a bushel of choice oats.

Instant Quaker is flaked from the same queen grains. But the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Now, if you want that exquisite flavor, you must get Quaker
Oats. If you want five-minute cooking you must get Quaker Oats. Get either style you like best. But, for one or both of those reasons, get Quaker. You want the utmost in this food of foods
—the greatest food that grows.

Regular Quaker Oats
Come in package at left—the style
you have always known.

Instant Quaker Oats
Come in package at right, with the extra "Instant" label.
Your grocer has both. Be sure to get the style you want.

Packed in sealed round packages with removable covers.

LAY NOT UP TREASURES

LAY NOT UP FOR YOURSELVES UPON EARTH WHERE MOths and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal.—Matthew 6: 19.

Electing the Prophet

FROM the standpoint that the allied powers have been letting Turkey do a lot of unpleasant things to them because they feared still more unpleasant activity among the Moslem subjects should they exert their power against the keystone of Islam, the new assumption of the caliphate as well as direct the destinies of the Turkish empire may have far-reaching consequences. The caliph of Islam, head of the Mohammedan religion, and the Sultan of Turkey, hitherto have always been the same person, the head in each generation of the family descended from the prophet. He ruled temporally and religiously by hereditary right, and his despotic power, limited temporally to Turkey, was supreme religiously all over the Mohammedan world.

Now the Angora assembly deposes the reigning sultan and caliph, and says that hereafter it will do the picking of the man for this job. Apparently as a sop to Mohammedan opinion outside of Turkey it is announced that the selection will be from the Osman family. But a caliph ruling by divine descent from the prophet, and one holding office at the pleasure of the Angora assembly, are two different things. The very deposition of the present sultan may have its ill effect, and it seems likely to be a very vexed question whether the purely Turkish, purely political Angora assembly, as head of the Mohammedan religion, will have nearly the power, command nearly the loyalty that the traditional caliphate has always exacted.

What the result will be is doubtful. But it is a rule often proved in history that men resent the use of their religious loyalty for political purposes. Since the religious cohesion of the Mohammedan, despite the diversity of racial elements it includes, has been the biggest card or one of the biggest the Turks have had to play in their game with the powers, it is not outside the possibilities that their latest maneuver may prove to have been overplaying their hand.

Voting "Against"

EARLY returns indicate that national elections went, largely, democratic. There are some tip-overs in the senate from the republican to the democratic side, and more in the house. The cautious Associated Press, taking a bird's eye view of the situation before results are definite, said that the republican majority had been wiped out and might be succeeded by a democratic majority in the lower house.

Dopesters will talk of the tariff and other specific issues as the cause of this turn-over. This had much to do with the result, perhaps, but one may feel that a factor of more importance than is generally recognized may have been the habit we are falling into of voting "against." One may find plenty of reasons to support the belief that it was not anything constructive proposed by the democrats that gave them the edge in the voting. It was rather an expression of dissatisfaction with the way things have been going, voiced in the only way the voters have open to them under present conditions—to discard the ins.

Looking back over a considerable period of years one can see that this has happened often. And the reason, past doubt, is that neither of the parties holding power and authority represent anything vital to the present day. Candidates wear party labels because they must to get on a ticket, but there are almost as many platforms as candidates. La Follette goes to the senate as a republican, but entirely out of sympathy with the republicans who express the party's position on almost every issue. Edwards beats Frelinghuysen in New Jersey as a democrat, but the real issue is liquor. The questions that decide almost every race, when examined, are questions that are dodged by the party organizations.

It is an unhealthy situation. It makes for an uncertain, spotty policy in government. It places technical politics in the foreground, the welfare of the country well to the rear. It causes men in office to think more of what to do, of ways of stalling and evading, than of positive progress and construction.

There are two ways to change the situation. One is to bring about regeneration of the existing parties that will bring them into line with modern issues frankly and boldly. The other is a new party alignment. Tuesday's election is one more sign that one or the other is going to be done, and shortly.

Smash

THE seemingly impossible does happen occasionally. For instance, you'd imagine it impossible for two airplanes to collide head-on in daylight, considering the room they have for dodging. But it happens in Honolulu, two army aviators killed, two others hurt. Unusual now, but common later, when the air will swarm with planes by thousands, like old-time flights of passenger pigeon. It sets you wondering how dangerous it will be for people on the ground when airplanes become as common as flivvers are now.

Live 50 more years and you'll see as many airplane wrecks as you now see smashed-up autos. Seems a long way off, to begin thinking about how to protect pedestrians. But let's start. We Americans are famous for never getting a law until years after we need it. What do you suggest? Limit flying to air-lanes in the country, fliers barred above cities?

Detectives

DARING crackmen burglarize London headquarters of Scotland Yard, world's most famous organization of detectives. The burglars cart away many fur coats, fancy umbrellas and pieces of jewelry from the lost property office, where missing articles are held for identification by owners. A London newspaper with a nasty sense of humor hints that the "Yard" may take out insurance policies to protect personal property of the detectives. This should get a chuckle out of American police, chafing under criticism.

Passing

EUROPE, in the hands of cranky old men, continues running in a circle. We live too close to the situation to grasp what is back of it. The perspective of time may eventually show that Europe, right now, is in the middle stages of the decay of its civilization. Will it pass like Rome, Babylon and the empire of Genghis Khan? A century from now, the leading world powers may be the United States, Brazil, Australia and China.

They have arrested a Texas telephone girl because the two husbands she had were her own.

William Douglas has resigned his position with the North Side Transfer company. He will leave Monday for Minneapolis to reside permanently.

The marriage of Miss Bertha Teitzel and Mr. Joseph Weigert took place last evening at the German Lutheran parsonage with Rev. Gamm officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Weigert will reside at 1802 La Crosse street.

A communication from J. M. Hixson, president of La Crosse sixty-nine acres of land at the regular meeting of the common council last night. A similar communication, offering the land occupied by the La Crosse Country club to the city as a gift with the provision that the members of the club have exclusive rights for the next thirty-five years, was also read.

The Charity Ball will be held on Thursday, November 14 this year.

Paul Warnes of Clear Lake, S. D., has bought a farm one-half mile east of Melrose. The place includes 285 acres and cost $6,500. Mr. Warnes expects to move onto the farm in December.

D. L. Riswick, for many years a resident of La Crosse but now of Bellefontaine, Ohio, is the inventor of a self-heating bed which promises to do away with cold feet during the winter months, says a Toledo, Ohio, dispatch. The invention consists of a series of water pipes running under and around the bed. These are connected to a small reservoir under the bed. The tank is heated by a small lamp.

A newspaper is to be established at De Soto, a few miles below here, by O. B. Cooper. Mr. Cooper is an old newspaper man and while the village is small there will be a large field to draw from as the surrounding country is thickly populated.

Nearly all the labor connected with the erection of the new court house will be done by local men and the contracts and sub-contracts will be in charge of La Crosse people, according to Peter Nelson who has the general contract. At the next meeting of the common council Reliance Hose Company will put in a remonstrance against granting any saloon licenses on Berlin street near where the new engine house is located. Four saloonkeepers have already made applications.

The first snow of the season fell in La Crosse yesterday. The temperature at present is ten above zero. Mill and boatmen are much concerned because if this weather lasts, the steamboats will have to hunt winter quarters and the mills will stop. However the weather is expected to warm up soon, according to the weatherman.

Uncle Abner's Will OUT OUR WAY

By ROSE MEREDITH

Betty Lasher waved her hand as the smart blue car swung around the corner, a strange, smiling good-by as the car vanished. Betty was still smiling when she entered the cool living-room and blinked her pensive, brown eyes at Uncle Abner. The elderly gentleman looked over his spectacles and frowned.

"Who was that young man, Betty?" "George Farnum, Uncle Abner," yawned Betty, pulling off her bright hat and tossing it on the table. "We had a perfectly gorgeous ride out to the hills."

"H-h-h!" Uncle Abner always cleared his throat when he was about to say something disagreeable. Betty sat down primly on the comfortable old sofa. "H-h-h," repeated Mr. Cory. "Am I to understand that you have broken your engagement to Jack?" Betty twisted the diamond on her left hand and blushed warmly as she raised her eyes to meet the fierce blue ones of her nearest relative.

"Broken my engagement to Jack? No indeed, uncle dear; but Jack is away off in Kansas now, and it is dull there. George has been so good to take me around."

"George is a fine fellow," "Isn't he?" cried Betty with sparkling eyes. "So clever, too, and he's the kindest old thing in the world."

"Jack is a fine fellow, too," pursued Mr. Cory. "We know that," murmured Betty, blushing furiously. She picked up her hat and turned toward the hall.

"Elizabeth," called Uncle Abner coldly, "does Jack know that you have been receiving attentions from George Farnum?" "I have told him about the ride," said Betty as she marched upstairs, her eyes full of tears. It had been some time after Jack's departure for the west to install some special machinery in a large manufacturing plant there, and upon the success of his first campaign for his firm depended Jack's Monroe's advancement with the great house of Latimer & Lathimer. Mr. Abner Cory was a large stockholder in the Latimer works, and he had looked with approval upon Jack's engagement to his little niece. The rather distant George Farnum's address and riches, although he liked the young man personally and considered that he had made a mistake of a man in him if he would only get to work.

But he wanted Jack for Betty, so he said.

A few days later Betty sat on the front porch knitting a gay sweater. Inside the library Uncle Abner and Daniel Smith, his lawyer, were talking. Their voices rose and fell in endless discussion of stocks and bonds and mortgages. And then Betty's wandering thoughts were halted by the sound of Mr. Cory's thin voice, speaking with the slow distinctness that always marked his dictation.

"All the rest and residue of my estate," he gave and bequeathed to my beloved niece, Elizabeth Lasher. "I provided she becomes the wife of George Humphrey Farnum." Betty overheard that much because Uncle Abner had spoken louder, as if to impress his lawyer with the words. She trembled and afraid of the knock, not what Betty went away from the porch and ran out to the study, where she sat down on the rug and cried. She had done when she was a small girl.

What a chaotic thing life was! She had always believed that Uncle Abner had made his will, leaving the bulk of his estate to Betty, provided she married George Farnum—the richest young man in Blossington!

What about Jack Monroe? Well, what about him? Betty thought. Betty, she murmured herself proceeding to the aisle of St. Matthew's church on Uncle Abner's arm. He wore still that old frock coat and high top hat. George, smiling and bland, the pick of perfection in husband, rich, handsome, clever and kind, was standing by her side. There would be town and country homes, camps and bungalows, travel and the pleasures for society spoiled with a capital "S." In a flash, Betty Lasher married George Farnum and was proceeding down the church aisle to the familiar strains of the wedding march when something interrupted.

A wood thrush high in an old tree sang his evening hymn.

Tears came into the girl's eyes. The thrush, she liked to believe it was the same bird—had witnessed her betrothal to Jack—had heard her wedding march. Now she listened with tears running down her cheeks. She would go to Jack, now—anytime—she would marry him at once and she would work so hard for him. Uncle Abner could leave all his money to George Farnum and she would be free to do as she pleased.

A very fearful looking Betty walked into the house and ran pump into Uncle Abner in the front hall. "Uncle Abner," she cried, "I have just heard that George Farnum has died!" "What, my dear," he said mildly, "where have you been?" "Sitting in the orchard, where he was so good to let me sit," said Betty, lifting weary brown eyes to his.

"George Farnum telephoned to you?" "He asked me to have you ring him up," something about a barn dance at Colonel Plump's place.

"Betty," murmured this strange Betty, who loved to dance and who could dance the soles from her pretty slippers any time, "Betrothal!"

"You will call him up?" inquired Mr. Cory.

Betty flashed around on him. "Do

Chinese Tablets Work Wonders for Mr. Baley. Easy to Try.

"We didn't have much confidence in Don Sung when he tried it first on 16 hens. We started Jan. 20th, when these hens were laying almost nothing—2 or 3 eggs a week. In three weeks, they were laying 10 to 14 eggs, or over a dozen a week. I'm glad we gave Don Sung a trial. We can't praise it enough."—H. H. Baley, Rex.

Six dozen extra eggs a week, at winter prices! And a $1 package of Don Sung lasts 16 hens 3 months. Baley is glad he tried it. It may sound too good to be true. That's what we want you to think. But we'll prove it to you just as we did to him with this offer:

Give Don Sung to 15 hens. Then watch results for 30 days. If it doesn't show you a big increase in eggs, if it doesn't pay for itself and pay you a good profit besides, we'll send you a new package of Don Sung and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese egg laying) acts directly on the egg-laying organs, and is beneficial in every way. It makes hens healthy and happy. They scratch and sing, pullets develop earlier. The whole flock lays regularly in any season, in any weather, when eggs are scarce and high—Can you afford to ignore the wonderful reports you are hearing from Don Sung users everywhere? Why not let us show you the same results, with your own flock? Don Sung is so trouble-free to use, chance to prove our claims, entirely at our risk. "You want me to go with him?" she asked.

"My dear child, please yourself," said the old man, smiling benignly on her. "It will not hurt me to go with you."

"I will not go," interrupted Betty feverishly. "I must confess, Uncle Abner, that I was sitting on the porch this afternoon and I overheard a few words you said to Mr. Smith—that about your will—and leaving me some money provided—provided I married George Farnum!"

"H-h-h!" "Yes, I did, and then I went down to the orchard. I have made up my mind to go to Jack at once," murmured Betty, and her married and unmarried friends looked at each other.

"We will live in a hall on Second Street, I think. Money isn't everything. Uncle Abner, and I do appreciate your love and kindness to me. I can't tell you how much I love Jack—and money doesn't count."

"My dear," Betty said, "I have heard the best head leaning against that great post. 'Why—why you have made me the happiest man in the world. I was afraid you would marry George. I am so glad you are with me. You really loved and so I had Smith call, and I decided that change in my life was just what I needed. I could hear it, but I don't mean anything. You and Jack are my children and I hope you are coming here to live in my lovely house.' Betty was in his arms now and tears were wetting his immaculate shirt bosom."

The telephone interrupted, and Mr. Cory released her to answer its insistent thrills. "Oh, Betty, but Betty has decided not to go out tonight. We are expecting Jack Monroe home tomorrow—and oh, yes, good-bye, and more good-byes from the instrument, he added. 'That should teach George not to out out his best friend—we must tell Jack about it, child, or he will lose faith in George.'"

"Is Jack coming home tomorrow?" demanded Betty radiant with joy. "Yes, he is coming home—and a September wedding would be just the thing, my dear," murmured the old man as they mounted the stairs together. "I'll be in the orchard in the afternoon, the thrush sang of love triumphant." (Copyright, 1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

DISAPPEARANCE OF MRS. HAMMERSTEIN WORRIES FRIENDS

NEW YORK.—Friends of Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, who have been concerned since she disappeared Monday from the home of Mrs. Julia Farley, were somewhat relieved today when it was learned she had left her luggage at a nearby express office with a request to look it up a few days.

Publication of stories that Mrs. Hammerstein had departed from Mrs. Farley's roof leaving a note in which she said she was "very weak and very tired and could stand it no longer," brought many friends to inquire about her today.

According to Mrs. Farley, Mrs. Hammerstein told her a short time ago that to be surprised if she were found dead on Oscar's grave."

She has been living with Mrs. Farley since four weeks ago, when she was found penniless and homeless in Central park.

PROBLEM OF GOOD ROADS IS NOW UP TO MONROE BOARD

Annual Meeting of Supervisors Nov. 14 to Tackle Situation; All-weather Road Urged

CIVIL CASES ARE DISPOSED OF BY THE COUNTY COURT

Hearing on Removal of Electric Surchage Rates on Nov. 9

SPARTA, Wis.—The question of furthering good roads in Monroe county is now up to the County Board and is one of the most important matters before the annual meeting of the board on Nov. 14. At this meeting the matter of raising funds for the all-weather road from La Crosse to Madison, through Monroe county will be gone over.

Mr. First, state engineer, made the statement in his address at Sparta that the initiative will have to be taken by the county boards of the counties through which the road passes. It has been assumed that the only way to raise the necessary funds will be by a bond issue.

Men who are interested in road work in this county, and know the conditions existing, say that the money put on roads under the present system is practically wasted, because of the rapid deterioration of the roads. Monroe county works at a disadvantage in its road building not having any road bond building material class at hand. Much has been done in Monroe county on the roads the past year, but there are still long stretches of the main highways that are in poor condition.

County Court Session

The County court was in session the past week and several civil cases were up for trial. The first was that of the Midland Lumber Products company vs. Taylor and Johnson, druggists of this city. The case arose over the price of some linseed oil. It was decided in favor of the plaintiff. The second case was that of the Cashier Bank vs. Company vs. Phil. Appleman of Sparta. This was a case over a disputed account of long standing and was decided by the jury in favor of the plaintiff.

The last case was that of Robert Graevon of Tomah vs. The C. M. and St. Paul R. R. This was an action for damages. The plaintiff's thrashing separator was struck by one of the company's train, at the Superior St. crossing in Tomah, and was wrecked. A large number of witnesses were called in this case and it took nearly two days to try it. The court gave a verdict in favor of the defendant. The court will likely convene again in December.

County clerk A. J. Neid has issued the following marriage licenses the past week: Edgar V. Anderson and Mattie Johnson, both of Weymouth; Henry J. Stoughton of La Crosse, and Cassie A. Beckman of Tomah; William P. Trainer and Lyla A. Snyder.

both of Oakdale; Oscar J. Trainer and Lyla A. Snyder, both of Oakdale. Rate Hearing Nov. 9. The second number of the 1922 Lyman census will be given Nov. 9. It is a joint recital of two musical artists of national fame—Edna Swanson Ver Harre a contralto singer, and Vera Poppe, cellist. The committee paid $200 to get the entertainment for Sparta music lovers.

A hearing on a petition of the city of Sparta for the removal of the surcharge on electric rates in this city, which was granted during the war, will be held at Madison, Nov. 9, according to word received here this week.

Canada's First Railroad The first railroad in Canada was the one built between Lachine and St. Johns, Quebec, and opened for traffic in July, 1826. This railway line was established by some prominent Montreal business men, and the railroad was constructed of wooden rails, horsepower being employed during the first year. In 1837 the wooden rails were replaced by iron rails, and the horses by a steam engine. The railway was known as the "Champlain and St. Lawrence Railway company." The Champlain & St. Lawrence Railway company received its charter in 1832—ninety years ago.—Galesville Republican.

MRS. TIERNAN TO DROP NEW CASE AGAINST POULIN

Woman Who Figured in Sensational Paternity Suit to Take Up Residence in Chicago

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—There will not be a second Tiernan-Poulin trial. This statement was made by Mrs. John P. Tiernan at the Tiernan home Tuesday.

"I am now content to let the decision rendered by Judge C. L. Ducomb rest as final. I've thought about it a great deal, and now I've made up my mind. Of course, he spoke most severely about me, but I was guilty. He condemned Poulin just as he deserved. And he protected my little boy. The Tiernan name is a good name and he's given that to my baby. What could I gain from a second trial?" Mrs. Tiernan spoke with the reputed baby in her arms. The other two children played in the adjoining room, from which the little one had just crawled to find his mother.

Coming to Chicago to Live

"I have my plans clearly made," she continued. "As soon as I get my divorce—in a few weeks now—I will go to Chicago to live. Mr. Tiernan will support me and the two older children."

"There is nothing for me now but my children," she explained. "Of course, to stay here in South Bend would mean just to stay in the house all the time. To go to my parents would be impossible, too, for although my mother has stuck by me through it all and my father, though less sympathetic, would be willing to have me, people in that little town would give my children and me no peace. When I was home recently after the trial and went with my parents to a theater a crowd stood outside waiting to see me.

"No, there is only one thing for me to do—take the children to a big city and try to forget."

"People say my children will always be marked. They say that they will be pointed out all through life. Perhaps—but I think the children will understand. If necessary I will explain everything to them, so that they will not have to hear anything from outsiders."

"But I won't give them up. Mr.

Tiernan would like to have the girls in a school, but I couldn't leave them. They're all I have."

"And baby—nothing could make me give him up. It's not that I love him more than the others—it's just because he's so little and my youngest."

Prof. Tiernan has agreed to Mrs. Tiernan's plans for divorce and will make no contest. Mrs. Tiernan explained. She will take her maiden name, rent a little apartment in Chicago, and live with and for her children.

BOOTLEGGERS HELD LIABLE FOR INJURY CAUSED BY "MOON"

Judge Rules Damages Can be Collected from Person Who Sold Illicit Liquor

MADISON, Wis.—Damages resulting from the consumption of intoxicating liquors may be collected by the injured person from the dispenser of the illicit liquor, the Wisconsin supreme court decided Wednesday in affirming a lower court award of $25,000 to Mrs. Helen Smithers, Bond du Lac county, for injury to her husband.

The court held that both exemplary and compensatory damages could be assessed against the saloonkeeper who sells intoxicating liquor in violation of law.

Justice Owen in his opinion declared that disregard of the law by the dispenser of intoxicants justified severe treatment for him. He held that the $3,500 award to Mrs. Smithers was not excessive.

BERGER IS NAMED TO CONGRESS FOR THE THIRD TIME

Socialist Twice Refused Seat in Lower House Again Elected in Fifth District

PEOPLE HAVE A RIGHT TO NAME MAN THEY WANT SAYS STATEMENT

Berger Declares Victory is Vindication of Party

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—By the Associated Press. — Representative-elect Victor L. Berger for the third time is Wisconsin's choice from the fifth district. Twice elected to congress and both times refused his seat, Mr. Berger, following his defeat two years ago by William H. Stafford, republican, made a fourth campaign, turning the tables on Stafford by an apparent comfortable majority.

Unofficial returns from all but one of the 183 precincts in the district give Berger 20,724 and Stafford 24,114.

As leading socialist in Wisconsin, Mr. Berger's election came as the result of the longest campaign his party has made in the history of Wisconsin. Repeal of the state constitution, enforcement of law and adoption of a number of amendments to the state constitution to permit acquisition of property by the state, were the two chief issues advanced in the socialist platform. However, Mr. Berger does not consider his election a personal victory or a victory for the socialist party. Rather he considers it the vindication of a party that was the only one that before the war, since and during the war, had stood fearlessly for participation.

There are just two issues that were decided in this election, Mr. Berger said in a statement Wednesday. First, the issue of permanent government. This had to be fought out in every other country of the world. It has been decided in our favor.

The fifth district of Wisconsin, and every other district in the country, has a constitutional right to be represented by the man of its choice, no matter whether the majority of the other congressmen like him or not. In England, Germany, France and Italy, men are elected very often who have been in prison, or who are in prison, for some political offense. In Ireland, men were elected to the British parliament and the English parliament was willing to seat those who had borne arms against the English government.

If a constituency has not a right to elect its own man, it may choose to represent it, then, representative government is a sham and an illusion. I hope the fifth district of Wisconsin has settled this question for good and for all time.

Second, this election settled the issue that we entered the world war because the majority of the common people wanted it. Little Senator La Follette, opposed our entrance into the war, saying the war was wrong, impregnated, and caused for years. It is only natural that the people should send both of us to congress together.

I was over at the Billingsgates, Elmer, and you should see their home. I really am ashamed of our furniture. Detroit News.

EARLY RETURNS IN POLISH VOTE SHOW CONSERVATIVE GAIN

WARSAW.—By the Associated Press. — Unofficial results in the general elections held throughout Poland last Saturday were obtainable Tuesday for only forty of 444 seats to which deputies are elected. These results gave nineteen seats to the right party, seven to the national minority, six to the socialists. The labor, populist and populist-radical groups each obtained two seats while the communists and Jewish populists returned one deputy each.

The elections were the first ever held for the present day Poland, which came into existence as the result of the world war. Women participated in the elections for the first time in the eastern sections of the country, as universal suffrage had been introduced.

Look Next Week

See how teeth glisten when the film goes

Note what beauty you have gained

For your sake and your family's sake, start making this test today. Then look next week and see the changes that occur.

Millions of people of fifty nations are now brushing teeth in this new way. Dentists everywhere are urging them to do it. You can see the results wherever you look—in teeth that glisten as they never did before.

Now see them on your own teeth. Go get this free tube at your store.

Film makes teeth dingy

You feel on your teeth a viscous film. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Food stains, etc., cloud that film. Then it forms a thin dingy coat. Film is also the basis of tartar.

The ordinary tooth paste leaves much of that film intact. Thus most people's teeth, until lately, were clouded more or less. Beautiful teeth were less common.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Most tooth troubles are now traced to film. And, despite the tooth brush, they became almost universal.

Now millions combat it

Dental science has, for long, sought ways to fight that film. Two effective methods have been found. Able authorities, by careful tests, proved them beyond question. Now millions of people are using them daily, largely by dental advice.

One method acts to curdle film, the other to remove it. And this is done without the use of any harmful scouring agent.

A new-type tooth paste has been created, based on modern research. It includes some new essentials and avoids some old mistakes. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants are embodied in it.

Some Pepsodent effects

Film coats are more readily combated. The teeth become highly polished, so film less easily adheres.

Pepsodent also multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize the acids which cause decay.

Thus Nature's great tooth-protecting agents are given manifold effect, while soap-and-chalk pastes reduce their power.

These results are bringing a new dental era in millions of homes the world over. And these whiter, safer, cleaner teeth mean life-long benefits. When you find them out, you will want your people to enjoy them.

They use it

The dainty people you see, who show white teeth, are probably users of Pepsodent. You see them everywhere. To women it means new beauty, new charm; to men, new cleanliness. To children it means new protection against troubles you have had.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

A few days will convince you that this is a method essential to you and yours. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

HARDING MAY PICK A DEMOCRAT FOR U. S. SUPREME BENCH

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Harding may name a Democrat for the Supreme court of the United States, it was learned at the White House Tuesday. The President expects to be called upon to name two justices instead of one. Besides the vacancy created by the resignation of Justice Day to devote his time to the war claims commissions, it is practically assured that a bill returning Justice Pitney will be introduced as soon as congress convenes. Congress will not hesitate to pass the measure, Justice Pitney having served more than ten years and being eligible for retirement because of illness.

With two justices to appoint, friends of the President declare that one will certainly be filled by a Democrat. Justice Day's successor probably will be a Republican and his name is to be sent to congress about Nov. 20.

COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS—BEWARE! FIRST SNEEZE IS YOUR WARNING

Dr. L. W. Griffin, Neenah, Wisconsin, practicing physician and throat specialist, during an epidemic of diphtheria used one prescription with great success.

His treatment dissolved and disintegrated the phlegm or mucus and assisted nature to carry the accumulated mass. The same prescription used for la grippe, tonsillitis, asthma, bronchitis, quinsy, whooping cough and kindred diseases, produced further marvelous results.

Dr. Griffin's prescription has become known among the druggists of the country as Mucosolvent Liquid. It is sold to the extent of thousands of bottles each year and today, forty years after its first use, is considered a valuable ally in many homes.

If you have an affliction seemingly impossible of cure, get a bottle of Mucosolvent Liquid (75c and $1.50 at druggists) and take it according to directions. It is not an opiate and is absolutely safe for child or adult, being purely vegetable, composed of antiseptics so combined as to produce a specific for suppurative and inflammatory diseases of the mucous membrane.

Bring the jar of Mucosolvent, quick! Just a bit of this wonderful preparation in baby's nostrils opens his head, soothes and heals the delicate membranes of the nasal passages and respiratory tract.

FREE CHEST CLINIC SET FOR LA CROSSE ON NOVEMBER 20-22

Free Examinations Under auspices of the State Anti-Tuberculosis Association

Another Free Chest Clinic for La Crosse. This was the welcome announcement made today by the Public Health Committee, under whose auspices the clinic will be held. The dates have been set for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 20, 21 and 22. Mary Regan, county nurse, Viola Nohr, of the La Crosse Health Department and other public health nurses in the city and county are co-operating with the Public Health Committee officers in preliminary arrangements. Workers from the staff of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association will assist with the clinic for a few days previous to the clinic.

The La Crosse Public Health Committee is to be congratulated on its activity in the campaign against tuberculosis, and for bringing to the people of the county another opportunity for free examinations. This will be the fourth visit of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association's Traveling Clinic to La Crosse, one clinic having been held in June of this year, one in 1920, and one in 1921. A realization that the clinic is one of the most effective methods of bringing to light unknown cases of tuberculosis, and of discovering other diseases and defects, not suspected by the patients, has led the committee to arrange for a second clinic this year as part of its program for better health and against tuberculosis. While the finding of unknown cases of tuberculosis is very important, educational value of the clinic, which arouses in the community a new interest in health, is another factor, which has led the committee to take steps for periodic clinics.

The clinic examinations will be as usual free, as this is one of the activities, financed by Christmas seals.

"ROSE O' THE SEA" MOST ATTRACTIVE PICTURE

Always a charming and luminous subject for photographic study. In "Rose O' the Sea," the first National star, is said to have filmed at her most attractive degree in "Rose O' the Sea," the coming attraction at the Rivoli Theatre. Fred Niblo, who directed the picture, has had many years experience handling the megaphone during which he has made a particular study of tones, tints and types. As a result of this ability he has been able to film Miss Stewart to a superlative degree showing poses and shots that stand distinctive in the star's long contributions to pulchritude on the screen.

"Rose O' the Sea" is an intensely human story of the rounds of New York with a brief eye opener along the rock-bound New England coast. The plot concerns Rose Elton, protégée of the sea, who is tossed into the arms of a veteran old salt from the deck of a sinking liner. Unable to find her parents the old man adopts her and cares for her until his death when she is left penniless to fight her own battles.

"Rose O' the Sea" is the long promised screen adaptation of the novel of the same name by Countess Baranska. Fred Niblo directed, and cast includes in addition to the star Randolph Cameron, Thomas Holding, Margaret Landis, Kate Lester, Halton Cadey, John P. Lockney, and after several years, in picture marks

Mr. Cameron's reappearance in films after several years. In addition to the above, four acts of picked vaudeville will be on the same program.

RIVIERA TODAY

Harry Carey's second super-Western, showing at the Riviera Theatre today, affords the popular star a somewhat different type of characterization. In his portrayal, Mr. Carey has brought to the screen not the popular conception of what the West might have been years ago, but the true character and life of the west of today.

In his latest productions, Carey plays several of his characters in a modern cowboy vein. In "Good Men and True" he has out-done himself. Banner of the old-fashioned gunnery and jazz bands, and the latest dances and in a thrilling climax Carey, with his bare fists, and a fire hose fights a number of hard-knuckled waiters, holding them off with the aid of a powerful stream of water.

Selznick certainly made no mistake in assigning Moore to comedy and engaging Heerman to handle the megaphone.

MORAL POINTED IN FILM

Nobody minds taking pills if they are sugar-coated. In "The Wall Flower," Roper Hughes, who wrote the story, dispenses mental pills with a free hand for the mistaken little miss who believes she must be a "Wall Flower," because she hasn't grown out of the awkward age. He makes one of his characters say to Colleen Moore, who plays the title role:
"It isn't that you are not pretty; it's your hopeless expression!"

It was a bitter dose for the little wall flower when she realized it was all her own fault, after all—but there was plenty of sugar in the dose, as will be seen when this delightful comedy comes to the Majestic theatre for three days, commencing Thursday. Richard Dix is Miss Moore's leading man in "The Wall Flower."

CASINO TODAY

"Chivalrous Charley," starring Eugene O'Brien, a new Selznick comedy, opens today at the Casino theatre.

As Charley Reilly, returning from life among the cowpunchers to life along Broadway, Mr. O'Brien plays the role of a temperamental Irish-American youth whose weakness is an uncontrollable urge to assist ladies in distress. His uncle and guardian, the political boss of New York and soft-hearted admirer of his "hook" nephew prepares to receive his protégé on his arrival, when a telephone message from the boy informs him of his arrest for having unwittingly helped an escaping confidence woman to escape a detective. Thus auspiciously opens the tale of the trials of "Chivalrous Charley."

UNIVERSITY NEEDS HUNDRED TONS PER DAY FOR DECEMBER

MADISON. — One hundred tons of coal a day during the month of December is the estimated amount needed to heat university buildings during that month. That means nearly half a ton of coal for every student enrolled in the university.
On November 1, exactly 3,729 tons of soft coal were on hand. Twelve cars with 540 tons have been recently received, and eight cars are now enroute.
The estimated consumption for November is 2,500 tons and for December it is 3,100 tons.

HOLMEN FOOD SALE NOV. 11 FOR FUNDS FOR HEALTH CENTER

The village of Holmen is planning to take the lead in La Crosse county in establishing a health center.
The Homemakers' club of Holmen and the women of various other organizations will hold a miscellaneous food sale all day on Nov. 11, at Holmen, to start a fund that will be used to maintain a health center, such as is provided under the Sheppard-Towner act.

State board of health, and bureau of child welfare, will establish health centers, organizing them wherever the demand is the greatest. Holmen has been practically demanding that a health center be established in that community.

The state will furnish physician and nurses at these centers if the communities furnish the rooms, with heat and light, for use one day a month, and a certain amount of simple equipment, which will probably not cost over $50.

It is to raise the money for this equipment that the Holmen Homemakers' club will hold its food sale on Nov. 11.

THIRD OF SHUBERT VAUDEVILLES HERE FOR THIS EVENING

Noted Principals and Cast Composed of Specialty Artists

"Broadway Folies," a great comedy show at the La Crosse Theater tonight.

There was a time when a varied entertainment on the stage was known as variety and this is a good description of the entertainment to be presented at La Crosse Theater tonight.

This particular unit of Shubert Advanced Vaudeville is presenting a clever musical comedy called "Broadway Folies" in addition to the special acts. The company is headed by De Haven and Nien and Joe Towle, with Mr. and Mrs. McEl-Burne as an added attraction and Margaret Merle as the prima donna, and presents as diversified a bill as could be asked for. Aerobats, singers, dancers, monologists and comedians provide the first half of the evening's entertainment while the whole bill is topped off with "Broadway Folies," a pretentious musical revue which includes in its personnel not only all the vaudeville performers, but a score of pretty girls as well. It is the third of the Shubert Vaudeville units to appear here and is said to be fully up to the standards set by the others.

Although there are more than a score of pretty and capable young women in "Broadway Folies," they are not to be confounded with the ordinary chorus and should not be considered as such. Each is an artist in her line and each has played an important part in vaudeville and musical comedy. Each has a specialty of her own.

Among others who appear in the general ensemble, yet entertain separately are the D'Arville Sisters, the Casady Twins, Helen Gould, the Nien Sisters, Betty Dennison, Lorrin Allen and many others. Not only do they appear in the vaudeville portion of the program which includes De Haven and Nien, Joe Towle, Mr. and Mrs. McEl-Burne and Margaret Merle, but also in the revue. Although it is somewhat of a different type, especially in its appeal to laughs, this Shubert Unit is fully up to the standard set by the two Shubert Vaudeville organizations which already have played here.

STATE EXPENDED UPWARDS OF THIRTY-SIX THOUSANDS ON ROADS DURING PRESENT YEAR

MADISON, Wis.—Highway construction and maintenance in Wisconsin for the present year will cost approximately $36,803,700, the legislative committee of the county boards association says in its summary of highway expenditures to be submitted to the county boards November 14.

County funds provide $10,351,600 of the total available money for highway expenditures in the state, town funds $10,323,000, state funds, $5,515,300 and federal funds $1,607,000, the reports show. This does not include funds expended on city streets which are raised in the municipalities.

County funds totalling $19,351,600 were raised for the following purposes: Federal aid road construction $1,607,000 from a direct county tax; state aid roads, $3,214,700 from a direct county tax; state aid roads, $9,211,700 from bond issues; state highway maintenance, $371,000 from direct tax; county highway maintenance, $1,374,100 from direct tax; county highway maintenance $976,500 from motor vehicle fees; county aid, roads and bridges, $1,035,000 from a direct tax; machinery, supervision and miscellaneous $1,471,000 from a direct tax.

Towns raised $8,600,000 from a direct town tax for town road construction and maintenance; $1,035,000 from a direct tax for county aid roads and bridges and $604,000 from a direct tax for state roads.

The $5,515,300 raised by the state came from the following sources: Federal aid road construction $1,700,000 from a direct state tax; federal aid construction, $711,000 from motor vehicle fees; state aid road construction, $783,000 from the state general fund; special large bridges, $100,000 from the general fund; special large bridges, $100,000 from the general fund; state highway maintenance, $2,051,100 from motor vehicle fees, state highway commission $188,000 from motor vehicle fees.

Federal funds of $1,607,000 came from federal taxes, the report shows.

"The cost of maintaining the state trunk highway system is supposed to be paid by the state out of motor vehicle fees," the report says. "As a matter of fact, this fund is not sufficient for the purpose and additional funds are being raised from year to year by the counties through tax levies. This maintenance will cost approximately 2,422,900 in 1922 of which the state will furnish $2,051,000 out of county taxes levied on real and personal property.

"The counties now maintain over 9,600 miles of county trunk highways in addition to the state trunk highways within the counties. The cost of this maintenance in 1922 is

Evening Slippers of Satin and Silver

Strapped or Tongued
Plain or Brocaded—

Skillfully interpret the finer versions of the mode

Worthy of special emphasis also is their perfect modeling, which assures evening-long foot comfort—snug setting heels and ample room across the forepart where one's weight rests when dancing.

Whether you choose one of the exquisite strap styles, one of the new tongued effects, or a model which combines both of favored fashion features—you are assured of style that perfectly compliments whichever of the newer modes and materials for evening wear are most becoming to you.

about $2,450,000. In this instance also the motor license fees are not sufficient for the intended purpose. The counties in 1922 had $976,800 returned to them out of the motor license fees collected in the fiscal year so that the cost of county trunk maintenance $1,374,100 was furnished out of county taxes on general property.

"The counties and towns together must provide at least $1,374,100 to meet the state aid, while as a matter of fact they provided about $3,908,700 by direct taxation in 1922 and a further sum of $9,211,700 in bond issues. This indicates clearly that the counties are pushing highway improvement much more rapidly than state laws demand, as in the given year they have provided $11,746,400 not required by the amount of state aid received."

Saving Surplus Material

A Japanese professor has started a campaign to change the cut of the typical Japanese garment thereby saving the people $50,000,000 annually. The change contemplates the abolition of the custom of making sleeves with a surplus of material in them of the kimono type. There is considerable interest in the movement but it lacks the stamp of official approval. This is likely to come later.

FOREST SERVICE IS PROVING WORTH IN ALASKA--BADGER

Madison Man Returns from Extended Trip Through Northern Territory

MADISON, Wis.—That there is a growing appreciation of the work of the Forest Service in Alaska is the opinion of L. T. Markwardt, who has recently returned to Madison from an extended trip through that country. Mr. Markwardt was sent by the Forest Service in order to obtain reliable data on woods for testing the mechanical properties of wood grown in the United States.

The policies and aims of the Forest Service are becoming better understood according to Mr. Markwardt, and the people are learning that the National Forests are for development and use and not merely "reserves."

That the work of the Forest Products Laboratory here is well worth while was shown clearly by the fact that the result of the research on shipping containers conducted here is known as far north as Cordova and Prince William Sound. The problem for railroad timber in Alaska, as in the United States, is durability. At present there are no treading plants in use.

No Protest

I remember the dawn of that cold, rainy day,
Our first time over the top.

How for hours we crouched in the mud of the trench,
With our hearts going flippity-flop.

And at last the word came—and over we went,
Where the bullets whistled and spat;

And shrapnel screamed 'round like demons from hell,
But no one protested to that.

I remember a night in a thick marshy wood,
When the Boche gave a chlorine gas ball;

We couldn't fight back, we were held in reserve—
Had to stay there and take it, that's all.

And thicker and thicker the stinking fumes grew
While we lay there sprawling out flat,

Choking and cursing, but holding our ground;
And no one protested to that.

I remember the nights when with pick and spade
We scooped shallow graves for our dead;

No songs could be sung—there were snipers around,
Not even a prayer could be said.

We had to work fast, for with coming of day
The guns would start in to chat;

Without coffins or blankets we laid them away,
But no one protested to that.
